

POWER OF DATA

- Learn an engaging strategy for teaching science and social studies using ArcGIS Online
- Design map & data driven, standards-based lessons
- FREE for 30 secondary science and social studies teachers from Four Corners region ($220 value).
- Earn continuing education units, certificates for career advancement, and a $200 Visa gift card

Online Courses

Teaching and Learning with Geospatial Inquiry

22 hours - June 1-July 5

Designing a Geospatial Inquiry Lesson

8 Hours - June 1-July 5 OR July 5--July 30

Pedagogical Moves to Promote Geospatial Inquiry

4 Hours - July 5 - July 30

Implications for Teaching with Geospatial Inquiry

4 Hours - July 5 - July 30

APPLY TODAY!

The Power of Data was made possible by the National Science Foundation.

This opportunity is funded by the National Geographic Society

For more information, visit pod-stem.org

NAU NORTHERN ARIZONA
UNIVERSITY

Center for Science Teaching and Learning

Department of Geography, Planning, and Recreation

Special Achievement in GIS
2015 Award Winner

STEMWORKS
CERTIFIED

