

central utah writing project

The Central Utah Writing Project (CUWP) is a community of K-12 teachers across all content areas who are passionate about writing, teaching, and learning. Join us for transformative professional development this summer where you will re-invigorate your writing instruction and reconnect with your writer self.

See details below and on our website, www.utahteacherswrite.org.

CUWP Invitational Summer Institute

Summer Institute (SI) is an immersive three-week writing and teaching development experience; it is the cornerstone of CUWP. Teacher participants across K-12 contexts are selected by invitation after an application and interview process. They become CUWP Fellows upon completion of SI.

SUMMER 2024 DATES

June 10-13, 17-21*, 24-27 | 8:30 am - 3:30 pm
BYU Campus (*no class on June 19)

CREDIT AND COST

SEC ED 589R or EL ED 589R (6.0 BYU credits) - ~$300
For PD credit only - sponsored by BYU College of Humanities and English Department

FACILITATORS

Amber Jensen and Jon Ostenson, BYU
Chris Thompson, Spanish Fork JH
Joseph Wiederhold, Provo HS

One-Week Workshop: “Write Beside Them”

The One-Week Workshop offers a deep dive into a particular theme or topic relevant to K-12 teachers interested in improving their writing instruction. This week is designed for both teachers new to CUWP and veteran CUWP fellows eager to write and learn in community with other teachers.

SUMMER 2024 DATES

June 10-14 | 8 am - 4:30 pm
BYU Campus

CREDIT AND COST

EDPD 5455 (3.0 SUU credits) - $550
Option to take for PD credit only - $400

FACILITATORS

Craig Jeppson, Wasatch HS
Regan Gull, Skyridge HS

APPLY BY
February 10, 2024

REGISTER BY
May 5, 2024

